Acknowledgments

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my PhD supervisor Prof. Marc Swyngedouw, who supported me fully at each step of my academic work and helped me immensely with stimulating discussions and constructive comments. I also owe thanks to Prof. Swyngedouw for defending the funding of the research project during four consecutive years. The generous financial support, which made possible the present study, was provided by Brussels Capital Region in the Framework of the program Prospective Research for Brussels 2002-2006.

I am very thankful to my jury members for their valuable criticisms and suggestions, which have helped me to improve the text and reflect on a number of methodological issues.

The empirical research was conducted only after the professional academic translation and back translation of the questionnaire to Polish and Bulgarian language by Prof. Elena Paspalanova and to Polish language by Markieta Domecka. I must thank for the voluntary translations of my summaries into Dutch and French language respectively to Veronique Vandezande and Delphine Hesters, and Mircea Cojanu and Philippe Thion.

I would like to thank also to Julianne Funk Decard, Trinie Parker and Jaya Schoffner for the proofreading of my thesis and for the good will of working under tight deadlines.

This work could have never been accomplished without the voluntary participation of all Poles and Bulgarians who spared time to participate in the research and to share with me their life stories, for which I am deeply indebted.

I am extremely grateful to my husband René González de la Vega for the numerous clarifications concerning legal terminology and for being my constant source of advice and encouragement.
